

Dear Parents and Carers,

Welcome back to an action packed Spring term and a huge thank you from me and all the staff for your generous gifts and comments at the end of last term, they were much appreciated.

Sharing skills

Thank you to Finley's father (Reception) for teaching the children about how his company recycles. The children were fascinated and asked sensible questions. Thank you also for all the gifts to the school and the children.

Next week Ajooni's father (Reception) will be talking to the children about his medical career and the following week Ellie's father (Reception) will be talking to the children about Pinewood Nurseries and another father will be talking to the children about the police force. Thank you to Miss Rudki for organising these enriching sessions and a great thank you to all these fathers. If you have a skill or profession which you would like to share with the children then please contact the school to set a date and time, the children gain such a lot from learning about different careers.

Cold spell

The weather is forecast to be very cold next week so please ensure that your child comes to school with gloves, hat and coat. Thank you.
